Introduction

Viewing the Eden Valley from atop the Pennines on a glorious sunny day, the District appears to live up to its name. There is a strong sense of community in Eden coupled with equally strong senses of both personal and community independence. However the space and personal freedom we enjoy in Eden can, for some residents, mean isolation, lack of access to services and lower quality of life.

In light of our current economic climate, looming budget cuts and residents rightfully expecting quality service provision, partnership working has never been as crucial to successful service delivery and the achievement of outcomes.

This Sustainable Community Strategy and its first three year Action Plan detail how members of Eden Local Strategic Partnership plan to align their resources to deliver actions that meet the priorities of Eden communities. It is intended that this will also form the basis for our contribution to the development of a single Sustainable Community Strategy for Cumbria.

Roger Roberts, Chairman of Eden Local Strategic Partnership

The Eden Local Strategic Partnership and Membership

Eden District Council supported the formation of the Eden Local Strategic Partnership in November 2005. The Partnership exists to encourage multi-agency working in the development and delivery of a Sustainable Community Strategy for the District.

Wide consultation on the Partnership's original Community Strategy and on this, its second, help to ensure that the Strategy has the ownership of local people and organisations and contributes to delivery of the Council's 'Duty to Involve' local people in decision-making.

The Eden LSP is made up of more than 130 private, public, voluntary, community and faith organisations. All are interested in improving local quality of life and work with each other to do so. Eden LSP is determined to add value to the delivery of our Sustainable Community Strategy by partnership working.

The full membership of Eden LSP meets twice a year; in autumn at a Community Conference and in spring at the LSP's Annual General Meeting (AGM). At the AGM, the membership elects a Chairman and Vice-Chairman.

Eden LSP is led by a Steering Group that includes representatives from:

Churches Together

Action with Communities in Cumbria

Cumbria Council Voluntary Service in Eden

Eden's four Key Service Centres (Penrith, Appleby, Kirkby Stephen and Alston) with their hinterlands

Cumbria Rural Enterprise Agency

Eden Association of Local Councils

Eden District Council

Cumbria County Council

And the Chairs of the LSP's six working groups:

Environment Working Group

Eden Valley Public Health Partnership

Eden Children and Young People's Local Planning Group

Carlisle and Eden Crime and Disorder Reduction Partnership

Eden Economic Forum

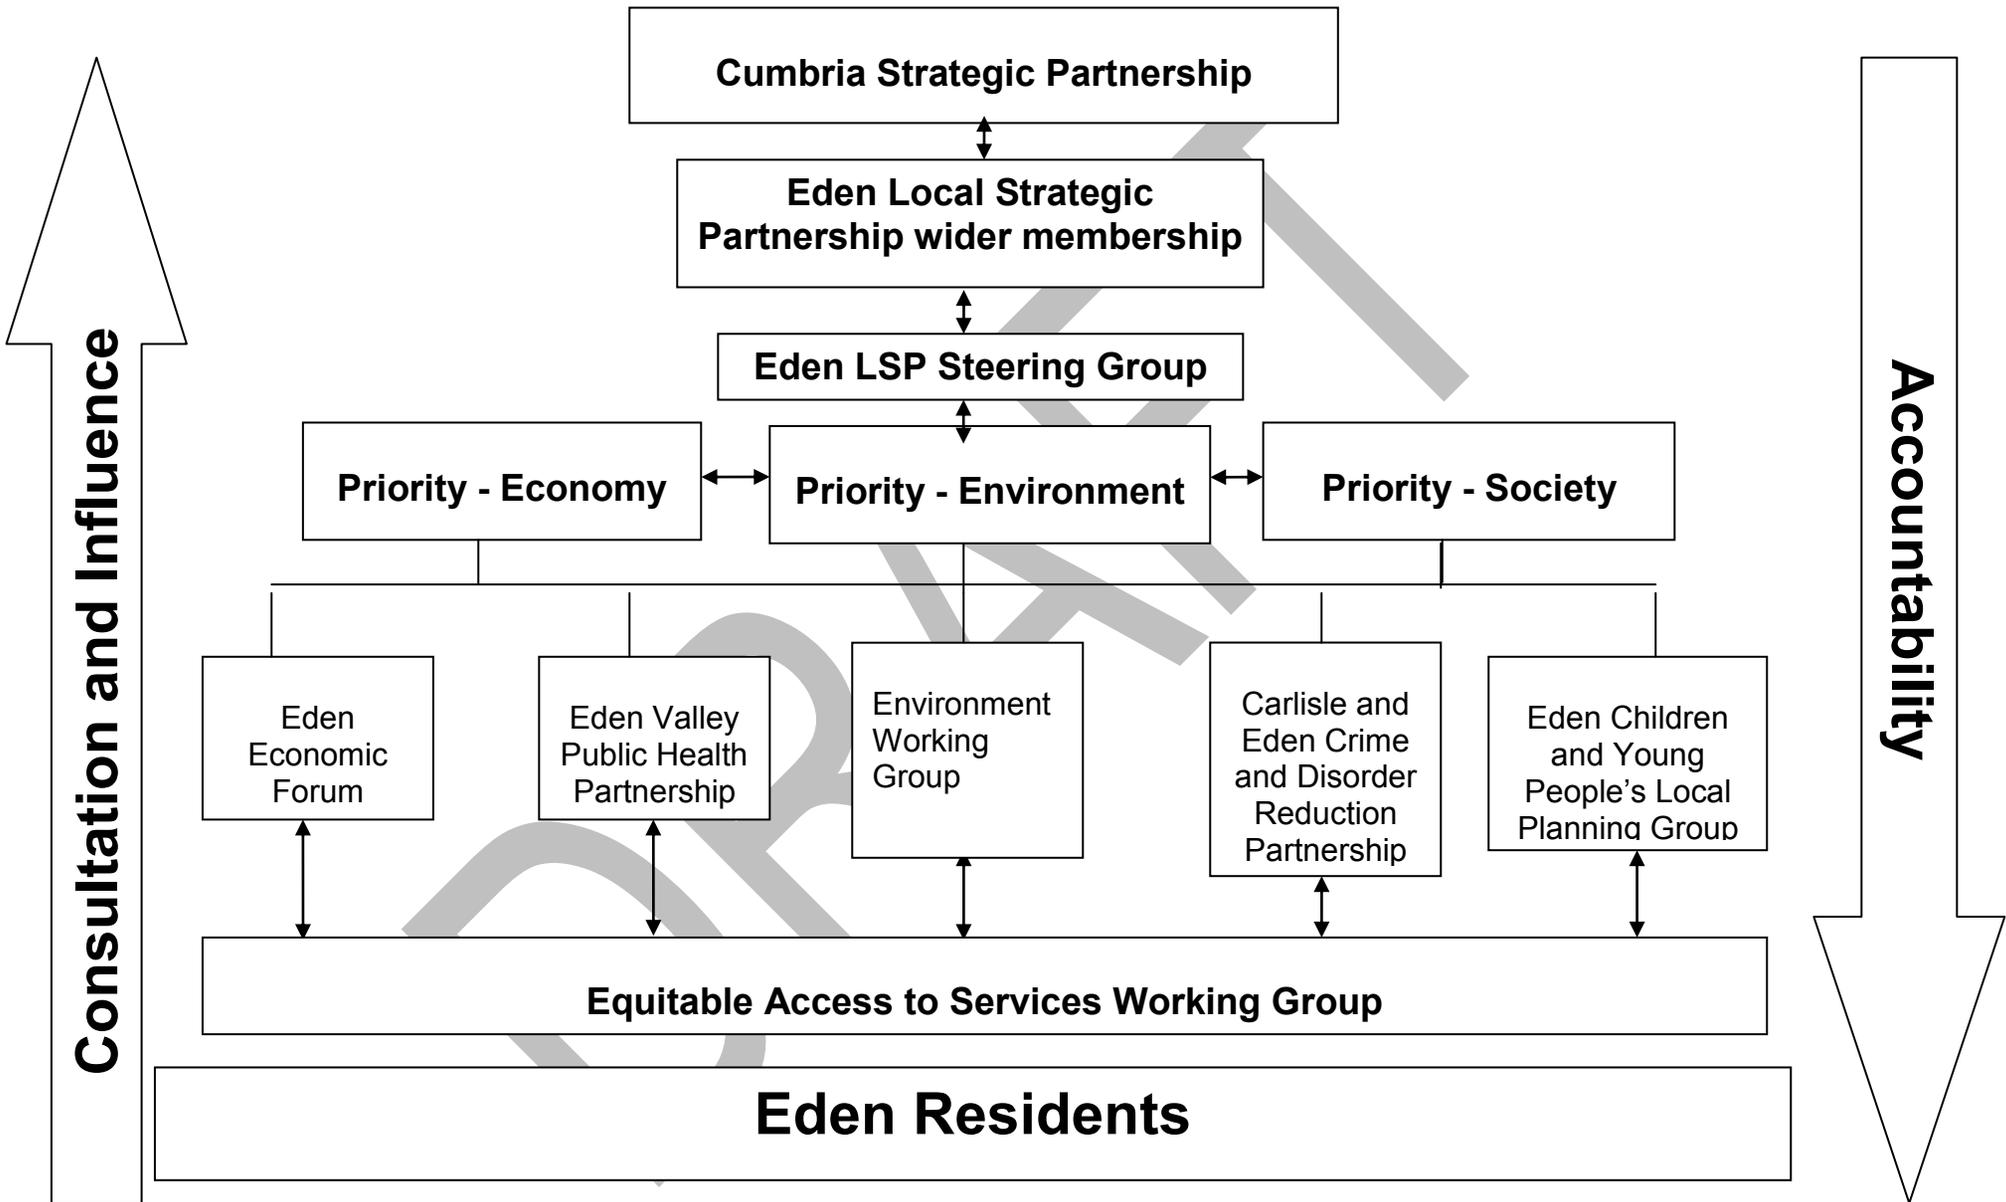

Equitable Access to Services Working Group

The Steering Group has driven the development of this Sustainable Community Strategy Action Plan and its members are key to its successful delivery through cross cutting action. The Equitable Access to Services Working Group ensures that the six strands of equality and diversity are recognized when developing and implementing the Action Plan. As such, the following organisations are committed to working together to deliver this Strategy and first three year Action Plan:

(YET TO INSERT Signatures & logos of Steering Group members).

The diagram below illustrates:

- The structure of Eden LSP
- How the six working groups function to deliver Eden's three themed priorities
- The relationship to the Cumbria Strategic Partnership (CSP)
- How consultation, influence and accountability are embedded in the LSP decision making process, this Sustainable Community Strategy and its first three year Action Plan.

The Cumbria Strategic Partnership

Like other local authorities, Cumbria County Council (CCC) is charged with developing a Sustainable Community Strategy for the County. The Cumbria Strategic Partnership (CSP) is the countywide partnership in Cumbria which brings together partners in Cumbria representing the public, private and third sector organisations in Cumbria. It is responsible, on behalf of the County Council, for developing the Sustainable Community Strategy and also for developing and implementing the Local Area Agreement (LAA).

The current Cumbria Sustainable Community Strategy sets out the partnership's aspirations for the county between 2008 - 2028. It states that "Cumbria will be a place where we work together to energise...

- safe, strong and inclusive communities
- health and wellbeing throughout life
- a sustainable and prosperous economy
- effective connections between people and places
- world class environmental quality."

Eden LSP Alignment with the Cumbrian CSP

With community strategies being developed at both District and County level there has been a recognised need for coordination. To this end, Eden LSP is represented on the Cumbria CSP and vice versa. In addition, over time the working structures in place have evolved to mirror one another, emphasising the strength of common interests as the table below illustrates:

Eden LSP Working Groups	Cumbria CSP Thematic Partnerships
Eden (Children's) Local Planning Group	Children & Young People
Eden Economic Forum	Cumbria Vision
Environment Working Group	Environment
Eden Valley Public Health Partnership	Healthy. Communities and Older Peoples Group
Carlisle and Eden Crime and Disorder Reduction Partnership	Safer Stronger Communities

This joint work is underpinned by the 'Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007' which sets out statutory LAA and associated duties, namely the:

- Duty of key public sector partners to cooperate with local authorities.
- Duty of local authorities to inform, consult and involve local people in improving local services and quality of life.
- Duty to cooperate in determining LAA targets
- Duty to have regard to targets.

Eden LSP acknowledges that the application of Public Sector Equality Duties and the duties under the new Equality Bill 2010 ensures that equality and diversity are embedded in the delivery of the Sustainable Community Strategy.

In consequence, many of the LAA targets that Eden is charged with achieving (such as LI7 'Reducing health inequalities within the local area' and LI4 'Tackling Fuel Poverty') are the responsibility of the appropriate CSP Thematic Partnership. Members of Eden LSP and Cumbria CSP work in partnership to achieve these targets.

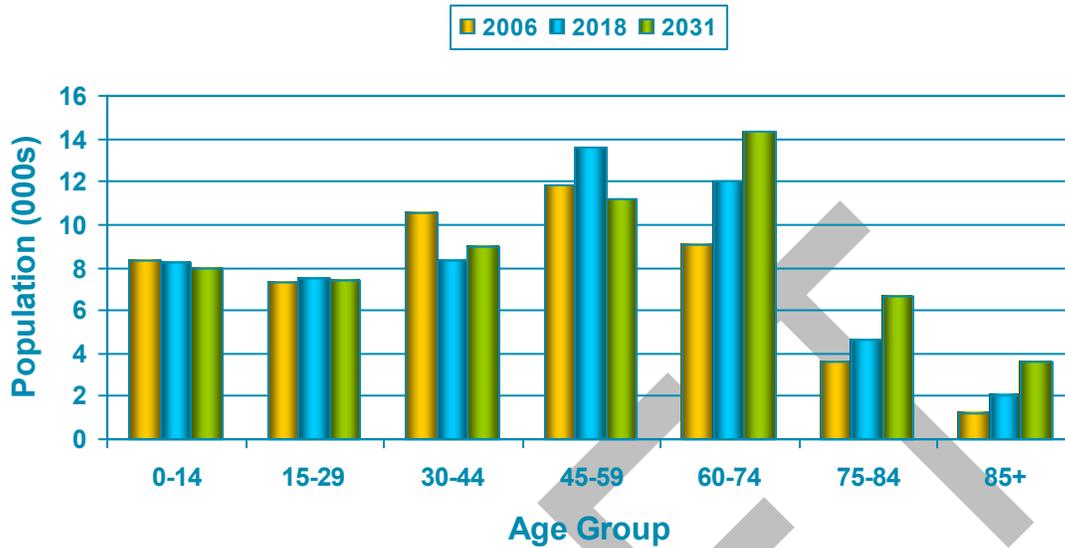

In Cumbria, District Councils and the County Council have, until now, prepared their own Sustainable Community Strategy. However, partners have recognized that a single Sustainable Community Strategy for Cumbria, developed in partnership and building on those already in existence at county and district level, would save resources while helping to improve coordination.

To further this aspiration, the CSP, the district LSPs and the Local Authorities concerned are jointly exploring the development of a single Sustainable Community Strategy for Cumbria and a working group of Authority Officers has been formed.

This Action Plan, which rolls forward the priorities of the Eden LSP, will shape our contribution to that developing work.

Eden in Context

Other than the main town of Penrith, all of Eden is classified as rural sparse or less-sparse. Its small population (51,900 in 2007) is expected to grow by 10-15% over the next 25 years to 60,300. Meaning that by 2031, the number of people aged over 60 will comprise approximately 42% of the population. The proportion of Black Minority Ethnic (BME) residents in Cumbria has been increasing more rapidly than the national rate, so that over time, the ethnic profile of Cumbria is changing to become more representative of the rest of the UK. Since 2001, Eden District has experienced the largest increase in residents from BME groups (+125%).

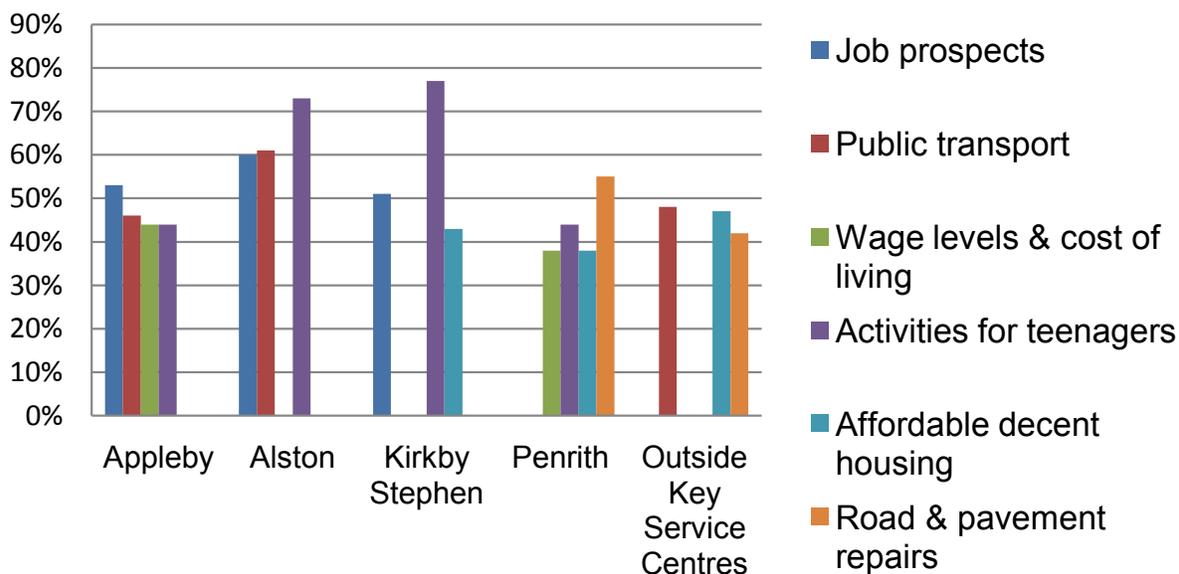

Eighty-eight percent of us are satisfied with Eden District as a place to live in. Overall, 75% of residents feel very strongly or fairly strongly that they belong to their immediate neighbourhood, (NI2). There is a strong sense of ‘community’ within Eden.

However, some things do need improving in Eden. In the 2008 Place Survey, Eden residents said the overall top six areas that needed improvement were:

- Road and pavement repairs – 45%
- Affordable decent housing – 44%
- Activities for teenagers – 43%
- Public transport – 38%
- Wage levels and local cost of living – 33%
- Job prospects – 31%

When the areas for improvement are disaggregated by geographic area, the order of importance is, as expected, influenced by an area’s rurality, economic and population profile.

Top Concerns By Area 2008

Although the Place Survey measures residents' perceptions of the area in which they live, these perceptions and concerns are based in fact.

'Job prospects' and 'wage levels & cost of living' are based on the fact that our economy is dominated by consumer services, including tourism, and the majority of our businesses are small. Our household income £27,226 is below the UK average and below most north-west levels. Although our household income is higher than some Cumbrian Districts, the figure masks pockets of deprivation that exist where Ward Household income is some of the lowest in the County. Eden is a relatively low-wage economy.

'Affordable decent housing' is a justified concern as in 2009, 5.2% of our homes were second homes and 2% were classed as holiday homes/self catering units. Affordable housing is an issue in Eden with the average house price being seven times average household income. Fuel poverty is also an issue in Eden with some rural wards having the highest levels of fuel poverty in Cumbria.

'Public transport' and 'activities for teenagers' are based on our most telling statistic from the 2005 Indices of Multiple Deprivation which ranks Eden as the most deprived district in England for access to 'housing and services'. Indeed, 16% of us travel more than 20 kilometres to work.

Concerns over 'road and pavement repairs' are substantiated by NI 169 which measures the percentage of 'non-principal classified roads where maintenance should be considered'. In 2008 – 2009 the national average of 'non-principal' roads that were in need of maintenance was 8%. Twelve percent of Cumbrian 'non-principal' roads were in need of maintenance, ranking it 13th nationally and the highest in the Northwest. Eden has 2000 roads, as the majority of those roads are classified as non-principal, residents concerns over the state of their roads is justified.

The Eden Sustainable Community Strategy's Vision

Our vision, which was reaffirmed at our Community Conference in November 2009, embodies the aims of achieving: strong communities, improved health and well-being, a resilient economy, thriving children and young people, decent affordable housing, maintaining a high quality environment, a good transport system and quality / participative governance.

Eden's Vision:

To develop, maintain and improve a vibrant Eden economy, supporting active and inclusive sustainable communities, building on natural assets whilst protecting and enhancing Eden's unique environment and heritage.

The Priority Themes

As the 2007-2010 Action Plan of our Sustainable Community Strategy has been successfully completed, at our November 2009 Community Conference LSP members focused on confirming priority areas for development to be included in the Sustainable Community Strategy and our three year Action Plan (2010 – 2013).

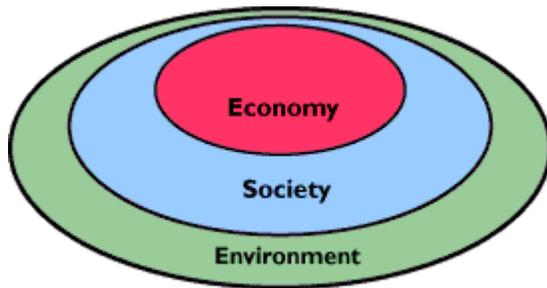

At the conference action planning workshops were held, the findings of which, alongside community, organisational plans and the Place Survey have substantially shaped the direction of the strategy.

The most recurring challenges for the area arising from a priority ranking exercise at the Community Conference were:

1. To use local, grow local, supporting and diversify the local economy whilst protecting the environment.
2. Improve preventative health services
3. Improving activities for and involvement of young people
4. Plan developments for a wide age range, promoting the 'lifetime home' standard.
5. Improve access to services and integrate their delivery.

The LSP Steering Group has developed priorities based on this feedback, placing the challenges within one of the three concentric circles that comprise sustainability as illustrated by the diagram below<sup>1</sup>:

A view of community as three concentric circles: the economy exists within society, and both the economy and society exist within the environment.

These are now the LSPs three key priorities for 2010-2022. The main objectives for each covering the period 2010 – 2013 are summarised below:

Develop a healthy environment by enabling the people and businesses of Eden to reduce CO2 emissions through:

- an increase in community-owned renewable energy generation
- greater environmental awareness and
- the increased application of energy efficiency measures

Develop a vibrant economy by:

- Increasing tourism turnover, especially promoting Eden as a 'green', 'walker' or 'cyclist' friendly tourist destination
- Creating new business and job opportunities
- Strengthening business infrastructure, especially improved broadband connectivity
- Supporting Eden and South Lakeland Forward in implementing their regeneration Plan

Develop a strong society by:

- Delivering preventative health actions
- Reducing social and economic isolation
- Promoting community engagement, involvement and ownership
- Delivering actions that meet the needs of Eden's diverse demographic communities.

The full three year action plan outlining how the priorities and objectives will be delivered, with key partners and performance measures are appended to this document.

Links to Other Plans

The Eden Sustainable Community Strategy and its first three year Action Plan influence and are influenced by a number of other plans and strategies. While they all contribute to the wider delivery of Eden Sustainable Community Strategy, the local spatial planning documents are particularly important as they are the 'spatial expression' of the Eden Sustainable Community Strategy. In Eden District, these documents include:

- Eden Local Development Framework (LDF)
- The Lake District LDF (for that part of Eden which is within the Lake District National Park)
- Cumbria Waste and Minerals LDF
- Eden Core Strategy

EDC's Corporate Plan 2008 – 2011, sets out the Council's actions to achieve its four corporate priorities of:

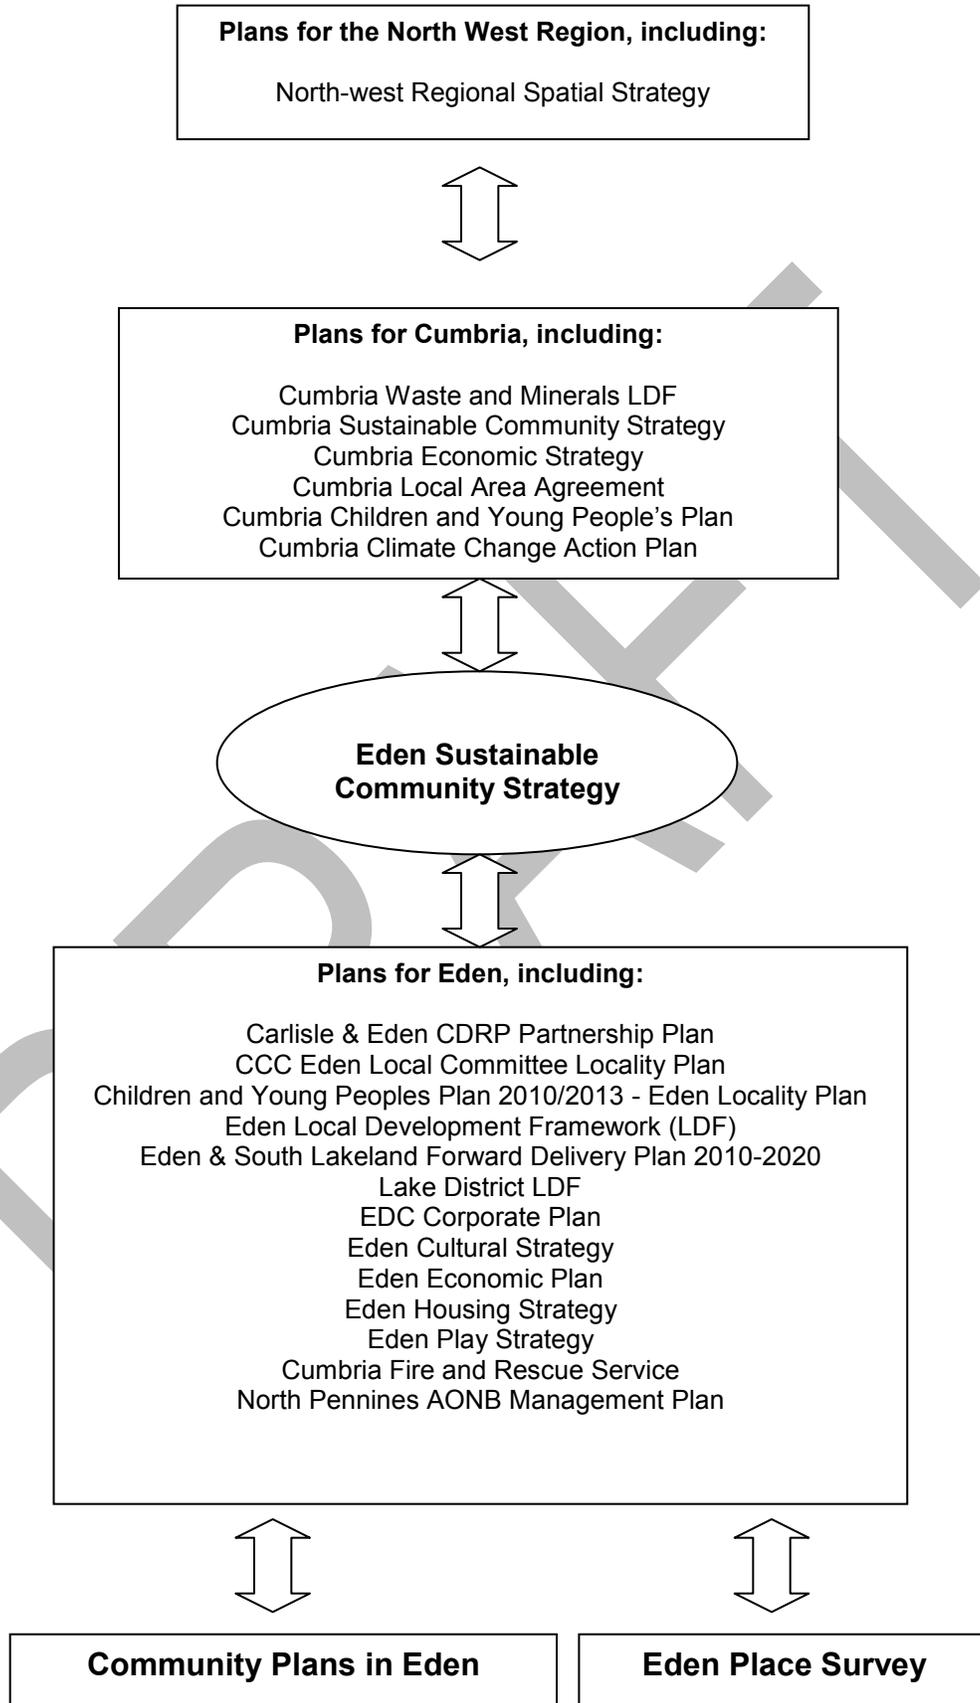

- Affordable Housing
- Quality Environment
- Economic Vitality
- Quality Council

The Corporate Plan and the Sustainable Community Strategy are companion documents and each has a significant role in shaping the other. In partnership, they deliver the Council's corporate priorities and fulfil the wider needs of the entire community of Eden.

Community Plans are an effective tool through which communities can express their views about the needs and future of their area. Eden LSP, since its inception, has recognised the significant benefits of the community planning process and continues to view information contained in Community Plans as crucial to the development of the Eden Sustainable Community Strategy.

In Eden, around half of our Parishes, with facilitation from ACT, EDC, CCC and other partners have completed Community Plans. In developing this three year Action Plan, actions in Community Plans have been considered and where priorities are in close alignment actions have been incorporated into our Strategy.

Other documents particularly important to the Eden Sustainable Community Strategy are outlined in the diagram below:

Measuring Progress and Ensuring Robustness

The full first three year Action Plan with named lead partners, performance indicators and timings follows.

We will use this to check and report on how delivery of the Action Plan is proceeding in the spring and autumn of each year.

This Action Plan has been:

- sustainability tested by the Steering Group with assistance from CCC;
- Equal Access to Services Working Group has lead on the Equality and Diversity Assessment;
- checked for relevance to community and parish plans; and
- subjected to wide consultation including; the wider LSP membership, EDC Councilors, Parish Councilors, the general public and other interested organizations.

before being finalized and endorsed by the wider LSP membership at their Annual AGM in May 2010.
