

This table provides a breakdown of numbers from General Practitioners registers over the last 5 years. It provides figures for Cumbria as a whole, for the north Carlisle area and separately for Stanwix and the Kingmoor schools. (Please note that the figures for these schools change from 2008 following the closure of Belah School, when catchment boundaries were redrawn.) The figures show that the number of children under the age of 6 living in the County increased by just over 2% between 2004 and 2009. In north Carlisle over the same period, the number of children under the age of 6 increased by almost 11%. Taking into account the former Belah catchment area, numbers in the current Stanwix and Kingmoor schools' catchment areas have risen by around 16.5%.
