

The Heather Glen

One local business who is very much benefitting from the arrival of fibre in Ainstable village, is The Heather Glen Country House. "One of the most frequent requests we get from clients is access to wi-fi. Upgrading to fibre broadband has meant this is something we can offer at a fast and reliable speed."

Set in the heart of the Eden Valley, the Heather Glen Country House is a family run wedding venue and restaurant which also offers private functions and accommodation.

Manager David Graham describes how improved broadband speeds have benefitted the business. "Our business has really benefitted in terms of service we can offer to our customers as well as supporting marketing activities, website maintenance and responding to enquiries."

The improved service has also enabled the Heather Glen Country House to establish a new text and email notification service which tells people when there are tables available in the restaurant or rooms free as well as special menu's, special offers and events.

David would encourage other businesses to upgrade their businesses to upgrade their broadband service to fibre. He said, "The upgrade has provided us with a much more reliable and faster connection which has made a huge difference to our internal day to day business and our ability to promote our services to the rest of the world."
